

SafeRide

We all know
drinking & driving
don't mix

*Your employer encourages all employees and their family members to act
responsibly by not driving under the influence of alcohol.*

Buzzed driving is drunk driving – just because someone may have had only one or two drinks does not mean they are OK to drive. Consuming alcohol can impair judgment and make people less likely to make the best decision for the safety of themselves and others. As a result, they may think they are OK to drive when they are not.

Alcohol slows a driver's reaction time, reduces their ability to properly gauge speed or distance from other objects and makes it difficult for them to focus on the road.

Sometimes, one or two drinks are all it takes to impair someone's ability to drive. Alcohol steadily decreases a person's ability to drive a motor vehicle. The more you drink, the greater the effect.

Here's how it works:

If you find yourself in an unanticipated situation where you or someone you are riding with is incapacitated, call your local cab company or a rideshare for a safe ride home.

For reimbursement, within 30 days, mail the following information:

- | | |
|------------------|-----------------------------------|
| ✓ full name | ✓ name of your employer |
| ✓ address | ✓ telephone number |
| ✓ e-mail address | ✓ fully completed cab co. receipt |

PLAN A SOBER RIDE

Planning ahead for a sober ride is the best way to ensure you get home safely. Don't wait until after you have started drinking. Designate a driver or arrange for someone you trust to pick you up. That also applies to others you know. If you know someone who is about to drive impaired, take their keys and find them a sober ride home.
